and PRINCIPAL CITIES

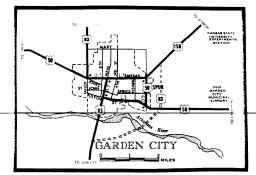

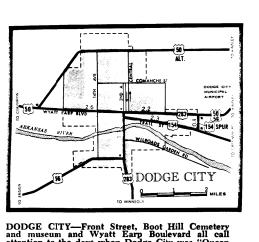

GARDEN CITY—Finnup Park has a fine zoo and one of the largest concrete swimming pools. The Old Windsor Hotel with its lobby three stories high, still stands much like it was in 1886 when it was built. To the south is a state game preserve with a large buffalo herd.

HUTCHINSON is the salt capital. It has a large salt mine and one of the largest grain elevators in the world. In mid-September the Kansas State Fair brings exhibitors from a dozen states. Carey Park and the Hutchinson Planetarium are other attrac-
